LA FOLLETTE SPEAKS IN SELF DEFENSE

His Criticism of War Questions
Occupies Three Hours

Wisconsin Senator in His Address
Fails to Mention His Recent Utterances Before Non-Partisan League at St. Paul.

Washington, Oct. 6.—In the midst of a day's thrilling debate on alleged disloyalty of Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, the extraordinary session of congress, which began April 2, and generally regarded as the most momentous in American history was adjourned sine die at 3 P. M. today.

Vehement criticism of the Wisconsin senator and his own defense occupying virtually the entire day, marked the close of the war session with other customary adjournment and legislative procedure, including President Wilson's attendance at the Capitol. The usual eleven hour grist of legislation was put thru, following six months of important war action and tonight most of the members who had remained for the final day were enroute home to await the call of the next session Dec. 3. With galleries crowded to their capacity, the senate chamber was the scene of five hours stirring discussion of Senator La Follette's attitude, but in the house there was little to mark the occasion except the submission of a committee report mildly censuring Representative Heflin of Alabama for criticizing fellow members in connection with Count Von Bernstorff's request for Berlin to furnish funds to influence congress.

The day began with a three hour speech by Senator La Follette in defense of his criticism of war questions. Without mentioning his recent address before the non-partisan league at St. Paul, for investigation of which arrangements were completed today by the senate subcommittee, of naming any of his critics, Mr. La Follette read a carefully prepared defense of his course and declared his intention to follow it in the future. He was interrupted only once and was applauded by the galleries when he closed.

Quotes War Speeches

He asserted "that the war party" besides carrying on a campaign of "libel and character assassination" against members of congress who voted against the war, was attempting to suppress discussion of war issues and intimidate the people themselves by invading their homes and unlawfully throwing them in jail.

The senator quoted at length from Mexican war speeches of Lincoln, Clay, Webster and Sumner in support of his defense of the right of a member of congress to assail the policy of the government and dwell at length upon the constitutional duty of congress rather than the president to proclaim the nation's purposes in taking up arms. He made no reference to the inquiry ordered yesterday by the senate into his speech by the non-partisan league at St. Paul, and dealt with criticisms of himself only generally.

"Six members of the senate and, as I recall, about fifty members of the house voted against the declaration of war," he said. "Immediately there was let loose upon those senators and representatives a flood of invective and abuse from newspapers and individuals who had been clamoring for war, uncaring of the history of civilized society."

"Prior to the declaration of war, every man who had ventured to oppose our entrance into it had been condemned as a coward or worse, and even the president had by no means been immune from these attacks. Since the declaration of war the triumphant party has pursued those senators and representatives, who voted against war, with malicious falsehood and reckless libelous attacks, going to the extreme limit of treason against their country."

"It is not claimed that the senators who opposed the declaration of war have since that time acted with any concerted purpose either regarding war measures or any others. They have voted according to their individual opinions, have often been opposed to each other on bills, and according to my recollection, have never all voted together since that time on any single proposition upon which the senate has been divided."

Senator La Follette declared that if he alone had been made the victim of these attacks he would not take the senate's valuable time for consideration.

"But sir," he continued, "it is not alone the members of congress who have been made the victims of the war party in this country has sought to intimidate. The mandate has gone forth to the sovereign people of this country that they must be silent while those things are being done by their government which most vitally concern their well-being, their happiness, and their lives. Today and for weeks past honest and law-abiding citizens of this country are being terrorized and outraged in their rights by those sworn to uphold the laws and protect the rights of the people. I have in my possession numerous affidavits establishing the fact that people are being unlawfully arrested, thrown in jail, held incommunicado for days, only to be eventually discharged without ever having been taken into court, because they have committed no crime. Private residences are being invaded, loyal citizens of undoubted integrity and probity arrested, cross-examined and the most sacred constitutional rights guaranteed every man citizen are continually violated."

"It appears to be the purpose of those conducting this campaign to throw the country into a state of terror, to coerce public opinion, to stifle criticism and suppress discussion."

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

Big gun activities are in progress along the Flanders front with indications that the Germans, as usual in this form of combat, are playing the secondary role.

Field Marshal Haig's report on Friday night's activities mentions only the increased fire from the German artillery failing to reveal what his own gunners are about.

Press reports, however, show that the Germans are suffering heavily from the effects of the British artillery fire. Some of the advanced positions have become too hot to hold under the British pounding and from these the German lines have been withdrawn somewhat. British reconnoitering parties finding them evacuated. The overwhelming nature of the British fire empowers in the present offensive is being paid tribute to by the Germans, it is noted, by the invention of a new term to describe the bombardment. It is called "drum fire," not even "whirlwind fire" that is spoken of, but "hurricane fire." It is fire of this sort or immeasurably near it, that is preventing the German counter-attacks from being launched as promptly or proving as effective as they formerly were.

The Germans are still trying to retrieve some of their lost ground north of Verdun.

Russian internal affairs still claim precedence in interest over happenings along the Russian front. The Democratic congress has adjourned after providing for the constitution of a parliament of 305 members which is expected to sit until the constituent assembly is elected.

The Petrograd radicals now seem disappointed at the result of this congress and have called a session of the all-Russian soldiers' workmen deputies to meet in Petrograd bringing up the threat of an opposition parliament, as they apparently consider the conservative influences too strong in the body authorized by the congress.

The cabinet situation in Petrograd is still complex but hope is expressed by the government that an adjustment of a coalition ministry will be reached.

One of the great issues involved in the war.

Besides quoting at length from the American statesmen who opposed bitterly President Polk's policy in the Mexican war, the Wisconsin senator gave extracts from speeches by Burke, Fox, Lord Chatham and others in the British parliament attacking Great Britain's war upon the American colonies. He said he did it to show that the principle of free speech was no new doctrine born of the constitution of the United States.

In support of his assertion that congress should speak for the country in declaring the purposes of war the senator cited precedents at great length.

"It would be bad enough if the constitution clothed the president with any such power," he said, "but to exercise such power without constitutional authority cannot long be tolerated if even the forms of free government are to remain. We know that the people would resist, and if necessary resist with arms in their hands, any scheme to clothe the president with power to plunge this country into war and then to continue the war as long as he desired."

Senator La Follette said no conviction was stronger with the people today than that there should be no constitutional war except in case of actual invasion unless supported by referendum.

"And," he added, "because there is no clearness of understanding, no unity of opinion in this country, on the part of the people as to the conditions upon which we are prosecuting this war or what the specific objects are, upon the attainment of which the present administration would be willing to conclude peace, it becomes more imperative each day that congress should assert its constitutional power to define and declare the objects of this war which will afford the basis for a conference and for the establishment of permanent peace. The president has asked the German people to speak for themselves on this great world issue. Why should not the American people voice their convictions through their chosen representatives in congress?"

Reply With Criticism

Senators Kellogg of Minnesota and Fall of New Mexico, Republicans and Robinson of Arkansas, Democrat, replied with criticism of Mr. La Follette's public statements. They denounced what they termed his unpatriotic stand. Senator Robinson asserting that if he held such opinions he would seek a place in the German hordes.

Credited to the Wisconsin member in his St. Paul speech were flatly contradicted, especially that regarding former Secretary of State Bryan's knowledge of ammunition being on the Lusitania before she sailed on her fatal voyage.

Apparently stung by the criticism, Senator La Follette made an unsuccessful effort to get time for a response. He succeeded, however, in stating that he wished to make known authority for his declaration regarding the Lusitania and tonight he announced he would issue public statement tomorrow. On Monday the senate subcommittee will meet to investigate his St. Paul speech including the Lusitania incident.

During interruption, of the today's debate congress found time to dispose of a few less momentous matters.

WAR SESSION OF CONGRESS CLOSES

Completes Record of Achievement
Never Before Equaled

More Enormous Appropriations
Great Mass of War Legislation
Still Awaits Disposition at December Session.

Washington, Oct. 6.—A record of achievement probably unparalleled in world wide legislative history was closed with adjournment today of the war session of congress. Written into the nation's statutes in six months are laws in number, scope and importance, unsurpassed.

Called April 2 by President Wilson within a month after his second inauguration to enroll the United States among Germany's foes, from the passage of the war resolution April 6 until the president's signature of the last law today congress has worked incessantly on legislation of vital present and future importance in national and world development. It now secures a two months respite returning Dec. 3, for the regular session. Marking the session passing into history were its war declaration provision for quick and large increases in the national fighting forces, appropriations of more than $20,000,000,000, measures of taxation and credits to meet the financial drafts and vesting the president with vast powers.

Looming ahead for disposition at the December session are further enormous appropriations for this and next year, great tax and bond bills and a mass of other war and domestic legislation with congressional primaries and elections closely following. The principal disputes of the session were on the draft, food control and war tax bills with opposition centered in the senate. Closure was twice retorted to there on the food and war tax measures—but its actual imposition averted after a month was spent on each bill. During the session six allied missions appeared before congress, addresses being made by Lord Balfour of the British mission; Premier Viviani and Marshal Joffre of the French; Prince Ugo of the Italian; Baron Moncheur of the Belgian; Boris Bakhmetof of the Russian and Viscount Ishii of the Japanese. Congress also found time to take important action on two important domestic matters; prohibition and woman suffrage.

WAGE INCREASE PLACED BEFORE GARFIELD.

Washington, Oct. 6.—The wage increase agreement reached here yesterday by coal miners and operators of the central competitive field was placed before Dr. H. Garfield, the fuel administrator today with a request for higher coal prices to meet the raise. Dr. Garfield took the subject under consideration.

A joint committee of operators and miners told Dr. Garfield the wage increases would add from 35 to fifty cents a ton to the cost of mining coal in the central field.

Provisions were inserted in the contract today to make strikes and lockouts impossible by a system of fines. Details of the arrangement will be left largely to operators and miners' representatives in the various districts.

$10,000,000 WORTH OF BONDS PURCHASED

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Reports reaching the committee in charge of the second liberty loan campaign here today indicated that approximately $10,000,000 worth of bonds have been purchased in the seventh federal reserve district, exclusive of the large Chicago subscriptions. The allotment for the district is $700,000,000. Cook county with purchases of $3,979,400 leads in the returns. Illinois outside of Cook county has subscribed $1,252,340; Indiana $1,583,700; Iowa $485,950; Michigan $955,400; Wisconsin $695,700. From the figures submitted only one trifling more than one percent of the allotment has been subscribed with one fourth of the campaign ended.

ON THE BRITISH FRONT

British Front in France and Belgium, Oct. 6.—By the Associated Press. The Germans attempted no counter-attacks of importance during the new battle front during the night and both sides were taking a breathing spell after the arduous work of the last few days.

A cold, drizzling rain was falling this morning adding still more to the discomforts of the men laying out in the mud and water in this inhospitable zone. At some places along the line the Germans found themselves in such a position as a result of the Thursday's drive that they are reported to have pulled their defenses back a short distance to more favorable ground.

ROWLAND MAKES STATEMENT.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Eddie Cicotte, who pitched Chicago to victory today, probably will face New York in another game of the series, it was indicated tonight in a statement issued by Clarence Rowland, manager of the Chicago club.

URGES FARMERS TO FEED OATS TO HOGS

State Food Administrator Wheeler Declares Feeding Wheat to Hogs Because Lower in Price Than Corn Is, Serious Mistake—Should Profit From European Example.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Reports from certain localities in Illinois, that farmers are feeding wheat to hogs because corn commands higher prices than wheat, caused Harry A. Wheeler, state food administrator, to issue an "Oats Feeding" statement to the farmers of the state today.

"Feeding wheat to hogs because it is lower in price than corn is a serious mistake," said the statement which was prepared by an expert in Mr. Wheeler's office. "Even if the hungry human beings of the world were not in want of every grain of wheat not needed for seed, it is a much poorer live stock food than oats or barley. Oats is the crop we should be feeding to everything from humans to chickens this year. There is a monster crop of the finest quality oats in the state. Many sections report yields of 70 to 80 bushels to the acre."

"With bins full of oats that are worth only 65 to 75 cents a bushel on the market, at least half the hog and cow ration can be made up of this grain with big profits. As to the horse, which normally gets over 27 per cent of the corn crop, oats all the way have been recognized as the feed par excellence, and all the armies feed oats exclusively for grain to war horses. No corn should be fed horses unless they are to be fattened, with prices of oats and corn in their present relationship."

"American farmers should take a leaf from the experience book of the Europeans and Canadians where whole oats are fed to hogs and are recognized as the best bacon producer next to barley, which is supreme as a hog ration. Denmark which excels at bacon production uses barley and oats almost exclusively."

"Wheat as whole grain is the most wasteful feed that could be put into hogs, even if human beings were not suffering for it. Too much whole grain is lost in the manure from hogs which little value has been extracted. The oat crop is the right answer to the reduction of the feed cost, as it is already in the bins at hand and does not await harvest."

AMERICAN DESTROYER ENCOUNTERS SUBMARINE

German U-boat May Have Been Destroyed By Shell Fire

Admiral Benson Refuses to Make Claims Which Cannot Be Sustained
Beyond Doubt—Germans Use
Many Tricks to Elude Pursuers.

Washington, Oct. 6.—In making public today an account of the action between an American destroyer in European waters and a German submarine the navy department avoided any claim that the U-boat had been destroyed also all indications pointed to that result. The report on which the department's statement was founded was made by Vice-Admiral Sims, in command of American destroyers in the war zone, indicating his belief that a victory had been scored but Admiral Benson, chief of naval operations, pointed out that the experience of Great Britain and France in similar cases made it unwise to place too much confidence in port showed the efficiency and skill of the destroyer crew and drew a graphic picture of the pursuit of the submarine with shell fire and depth bombs. Admiral Benson said that in this and other incidents which will be made public when military reasons permit, there is every reason to believe that the underwater craft was destroyed. He added, however, that the department would not make claims which could not be sustained beyond doubt.

The allied powers have found by experience that the German submarine commanders attempt to create the impression on the surface that their craft have been destroyed and thus terminate the pursuit. There have been cases where destroyers have dropped depth bombs and oil has come up, indicating a hit. The assumption is that the oil was released to divert attention while the U-boat crept away.

There are other cases where submarines have dropped to the bottom in shallow water and rested there for a day or two, waiting for her microphones to show that no destroyer lurked in the vicinity before she came up. Admiral Benson made it clear that no government has definite knowledge of the number of German submarines or the rate of construction. Conclusions are arrived at from various factors and estimates based on these he said, but there is nothing to indicate clearly that Germany is doing to increase her undersea fleet. Reports to all admiralties, however, agree that Germany has larger U-boats than those now in use either afloat or coming forward. He gave no figures as to these reports.

MOTION TO DISMISS BOMB THROWERS TRIAL DENIED.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 6.—Motion to dismiss charges against Warren K. Billings, Thomas J. Mooney, his wife, Mrs. Rena Mooney, Edward D. Nolan and Israel Weinberg for murder as the result of a preparedness day bomb explosion here, was denied by Superior Judge George A. Cabanis today. Attorneys for the defendants asserted the charges had not been prosecuted within the sixty day period provided by law. Assistant District Attorney Louis Ferrari contended that this delay was unavoidable, because of the trials of similar cases against some of the defendants in other courts. Judge Cabanis upheld this contention.

DETAILS NATIONS WAR ACHIEVEMENTS

Transition in America Without Precedent in History

Industry and People Have Answered
Call to Arms—More Than a Million Drafted Men and National Guardsmen Now Under Training.

Washington, Oct. 6.—The transition in America from conditions of peace to those of war from the standpoint of rapidity and thoroughness is without precedent in the history of Democracies, says a statement issued tonight by the committee on public information, detailing the nations achievements since the declaration of war six months ago.

"American industry and the people of the entire nation," the statement says answered speedily and efficiently the call to arms. Six months from the day war was declared found the United States mobilized for the supreme task ahead. Congress, the committee's resume says has enacted more important legislation during the extraordinary session ending today than in any preceding session in history. Referring to the war department the committee notes that without accident or disaster a large expeditionary force has been sent to France. More than a million drafted men and national guardsmen are under training and the army has 80,000 trained officers instead of 20,000, six months ago.

"The general staff," says the statement, "is modernizing the entire army, unit by unit in addition to fitting out the Pershing expedition along entirely new lines. Development of the liberty motor which has withstood every aviation engine test is one of the major achievements of the war department and the aircraft producing board. This was followed by the designing of a standard military truck."

Referring to the navy the statement says there are more than three times as many men and nearly three times as many vessels in service as when the war was declared.

"Hundreds of vessels," the statement continues of various types have been taken over and transformed into various types needed for anti-submarine warfare, coast defense and other purposes.

"The Atlantic fleet comprises twice as many vessels as in peace times."

"The largest ship construction program in history is being carried out by the navy."

"Navy yards have been enlarged, immense foundries, machine shops, and warehouses erected. Work is being pushed on drydocks, ship ways and piers. A big projectile plant is being erected at Charleston, W. Va., and a $1,000,000 aircraft factory at Philadelphia."

The treasury department will have dispersed of more than $15,000,000,000 of government securities within a few months when the second liberty loan campaign is completed.

The agricultural department and food administration have done effective work to increase the food supply and the fuel administration to encourage proper production and distribution.

One of the accomplishments of the council of national defense and its advisory committee pointed to is the mobilization of 262,000 miles of railroads and of wire communication and the systematic scheme of purchasing.

The expansion of the red cross also is noted as one of the country's most remarkable achievements.

SO MANY WAYS.

Doubtless Food Administrator Hoover will yet make rulings which will benefit the average consumer, but so far his organized efforts have not brought forth any results of that kind. It is not the time for fault finding except this gentle criticism—that thus far there have been such countless suggestions for economy and food conservation that the average person doesn't know where to begin.

STOPPING WASTE.

Women of Jacksonville have furnished an inspiring example in the homely matter of canning several barrels of apples which were about to be lost thru decay. The women await instructions of the state food administrator before they dispose of the result of their labor. They do not know where these apples will be used. That makes no difference for they take the wise and broad ground that the purpose of the work was to eliminate waste and to decide later about the particular use of the products saved.

THE NATIONAL SPORT.

Evidently they believe in "baseball as usual" if the throngs that witnessed the world's series game in Chicago and the countless thousands who tried in vain to witness it, can be considered as evidence. The interest in the contest was not limited to the city where the game was played, for the contest, play by play, was given from the ball park over the wires to millions of baseball fans throughout the country. After all, it is just as well that this spirit still prevails, for the people must do something beside considering the war and the high cost of living.

GOETHALS STILL AIDS.

When the unfortunate controversy between Col. Goethals and Mr. Denman of the shipping board resulted in the resignation of Col. Goethals several months since, the public regretted the loss of such an eminent man from the public service. But Col. Goethals has given further proof of the "stuff" he is made of by the recent announcement that he will serve as president of the Wright-Martin aircraft corporation. He is taking this position from a sense of duty and will continue in it as long as he can be helpful or during the period of the war. Since it seems certain that aerial warfare is to have such an important part in the winning of this war, after all a fruitful field has been found for the magnificent ability of Col. Goethals and in the position he now has he can probably be of as much service to the country as in the government position he held before the Denman incident.

EXEMPT

America had a little man who feared selective draft.

It did not enter in his plan to go to front or aft.

He did not know the worth of home, nor love sweet Freedom's land.

Nor flag that flies o'er mart and dome, he did not understand.

He was not like the men of old, who battled at the bridge.

Of him another story's told, he hid him o'er the ridge.

Nor was he like the minute men who rose at country's call.

And swore they'd win or die, and then seized flintlocks from the wall.

Nor like our boys who fought in war, those heroes we revere.

Who saved Old Glory's every star and ship of union dear.

And so he hunted for excuse when he should take exam.

Just any old 'plint lying loose that he might seem a lamb.

And when the board began its work he came and coughed a cough

To prove to them he had tuberc but found the stuff was off.

They tried his weight, he held his breath, but still the scales bore down.

He did not prove himself near death; they searched him from his crown.

And then at last they found defect, 'twas true he could not go.

But on his character will reflect 'tis "bunion of the toe."

S. A. Hughes.

THE NEW PARTY.
If any one knows any real good reason for the organization of a new political party in the U. S. at this time the public will be pleased to have the information. In the recent Chicago convention where a new party was formed there were Progressives, Socialists, Prohibitionists, Single Taxers, Independents and representatives of other political beliefs and they seemed to think that they could forget their own political fads and so help to form an organization which might in the end overpower the Republican and Democratic parties. All these interests combined would make a somewhat formidable organization, but with such differing views it is difficult to understand how they expect a cohesion that will gain strength thru the years.

As a matter of fact this is not a time for any new political organizations. Gigantic tasks face the country—tasks that for the solving will demand the united loyal support of all people. The duty of the day is to get these questions well out of the way and then in later years to spend as much time as the people may desire in the settlement of differences which, after all, are quite minor.

THE MOST INFLUENTIAL MAN.

When the people of the country with more than usual calmness review the work of the congress which closed yesterday, they will stop criticizing congress for its dilatory methods and failure to accomplish definite results. Certainly no fault can be found with the congress closed because of the insignificance of its work. Any criticism which is just must be founded upon the action taken, not upon the failure to act or upon the wastage of time. In the very few months of this congress session a conscription law was quickly passed which provided the means for selecting 10,000,000 men of army age, a revenue of $19,000,000,000 was provided in bonds and taxation, $9,000,000 was voted for the army and $1,750,000,000 for the navy, and loans of over $7,000,000,000 for the allies authorized. The food control bill and the espionage bill are but two of several drastic laws adopted.

More important legislation has been passed by this congress in a few months' time than has been passed by any previous congress in twice the time period. Congress has responded to the call of President Wilson as no congress ever before responded to a president. Congress has conferred upon the president greater power than that held by any other government head, and today, because he desired it and congress answered to the call, Mr. Wilson is the most influential man in the world.

FACTORY METHODS AND FARMING.

In these days when there is so much talk about agriculture and the need for increasing farm production, an article in the Outlook under the heading, "The Reorganization of Agriculture", has special interest. The writer of the article recognizes that too often there is a disposition on the part of city men to give the farmer unsolicited and valueless advice. However, it is his belief that there must be a reorganization of industrial practices in farm operations if the highest efficiency is reached. The writer recognizes the growing difficulty of securing farm labor and also of keeping people from leaving the farms to go to the city. Highly organized industries in commercial centers now offer not only high wages but very attractive surroundings and with reasonable hours for labor, and so this writer insists that something of the modern industrial system as applied to manufacturing plants must be made applicable to the farms. He recognizes that on many farms the surroundings are altogether delightful and the living conditions admirable and knows, too, that on other farms those who live there must undergo many privations and work longer hours than obtain in manufacturing plants.

While many farmers work hard and deprive themselves of many luxuries, it is a well recognized fact that there are many farms on which marked extravagances of method exist. There is a prodigal waste on many of these farms because efficiency methods are not used. The writer of the article mentioned believes that there must be a reorganization of farm operation, particularly as to the distribution of the products of the farm—that some of the efficiency methods of distribution used in great manufacturing plants must be applied. The theories advanced in the article are indeed interesting and the good point of some of them is quite apparent. But to try this plan of operation out is another matter, and it is not likely to be done unless some Carnegie or Rockefeller establishes a foundation for agricultural research.

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

TOO MODEST

I am too sensitive, I fear, to win a salesman's laurels here. If some one batters me with chairs, or kicks me down a flight of stairs, I feel depressed, discouraged, tired; I think my absence is desired. Whereas the salesman who would win, should pick his bones up with a grin, dust off his clothes, replace his hat, reset his broken arm or salar, and climb that blooming stair again, to sell his junk to angry men. He doesn't care for a rebuff; the salesman's made of sterner stuff. I often marvel at his gall, when he shines o'er my garden wall, and nails me in my leafy haunt, to sell me truck I do not want. In forty lingoos I've explained, until my lexicon is strained, that I won't blow a measly plunk for any item of his junk. But nothing, nothing can I say will drive that earnest gent away, and not a derrick I can throw will serve to make that salesman go. If I should throttle him to death, he'd sell me with his dying breath some stuff to put in gasoline and keep my motor running clean.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE
FOR CROP BETTERMENTMEETING OF FARMERS HELD HERE SATURDAY

Government Recommends That Morgan and Scott Counties Work Together—325 Members Needed—Sidney Smith Will Spend Two Weeks Here to Assist in Organization.

Morgan county farmers at a mass meeting at the court house Saturday determined to make an effort to secure a farm advisor or county agent for the coming year and to co-operate with the government in an effort to increase crop production as a war measure. Charles S. Black, president of the Farmers' Club, presided and after Sidney Smith, representative of the agricultural department of the government, had explained the proposition and there had been a thoro discussion, the motion prevailed that an effort be made to at once organize the crop improvement association and employ an agent. The suggestion of the government is that Morgan county in the present instance organize jointly with Scott county. The interest that Scott county people take in the proposal was clearly evidenced by the presence of twelve Scott county men who had driven from their homes eighteen miles away in order to be present.

Organization Assistant Dr. Frank J. Smith drafted into service as his assistant in organization work here in Morgan county. Frank J. Heintz. It will be Mr. Heintz's duty to assist Mr. Smith by planning itineraries and arranging for meetings in every precinct in the county. Charles A. Rowe, who was secretary of the meeting Saturday, took a list of names of all those present and before the adjournment twenty two owners of automobiles had signified their willingness to devote one day each to the special campaign which will be put on in the endeavor to start the enterprise. Mr. Smith's time is paid for by government and he is ready to come to Morgan county to begin the campaign Oct. 15 and close it Nov. 3. The government's desire is that the crop association shall include at least 325 members and that they shall agree to keep the organization going for a period of three years. It will be necessary to raise about $3,200 in addition to the $2,100 which the government will provide. It is not why the government insists upon this, but requires a considerable number of members, because without a large membership the work of the crop association cannot be very successful.

Members Will Organize After an organization is perfected by farmers pledging themselves to become members, all of these members will meet, select an advisory council and elect officers. The management of association affairs will not be in the hands of the farmers' club, that organization simply taking the initiative in the organization because in almost all details the organization plan of the club is identical with the form suggested by government. The purpose of the crop association and the relation to the local situation were summed up by Mr. Smith in his address at the meeting Saturday. In brief Mr. Smith said:

Plan Explained "The County Agricultural Bureau and County Advisor or agent must be handled by a local organization other than municipal authorities, and this organization collects and disburses the funds required, employs the Advisor and directs the work of the Bureau and Agent."

"The Morgan County Farmers Club is organized along the lines recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the management of a county agricultural bureau. Its constitution provides for an Advisory Council to be made up of one delegate from each township or fraction of a township in the county and this delegate is to be elected by the members of the club resident in the township or fraction of township. The Advisory Council elects a President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer and these officers together with three members of the Advisory Council to be named by the President constitute the Executive Committee of the Club."

"The Constitution of the Club can be easily changed so as to provide that its membership shall be made up solely of those who contribute to the maintenance of the County Agricultural Bureau."

Members Will Elect Officers "It is proposed that the campaign for funds for a County Agent for the county shall close on the 3rd day of November. That as soon as enough subscribers are secured the President of the club shall call a meeting in each township or fraction of a township of the subscribers therein for the election of a member of the advisory council and that subscribers shall be notified by mail of the time and place of said meeting; that the president of the club shall call a meeting of all subscribers and of the advisory council to be held within ten days after the election of the advisory council at the court house in Jacksonville, so that the subscribers may discuss plans of operation and the Advisory Council elect officers and make required changes in the constitution of the Club and proceed with the organization and operation of the County Agricultural Bureau. Notice of the meeting of subscribers shall be printed in the daily papers of Jacksonville and notice of the meeting of the advisory council shall be mailed the members thereof three days before the meeting."

SOME FINE CORN Lee Adams of the east part of the county left at the Avers National bank a sample of a remarkable quality of corn. The ear had 1105 kernels, was yellow and well filled. It was a foot long and large in circumference. Mr. Adams didn't leave the name of the corn, if he knew it, but a gentleman thought it was the Leaming variety. Mr. Adams sold 75 bushels for seed at five dollars a bushel.

Mrs. A. C. Mansfield will leave Monday for Bart, Ky., to spend the winter months.

elect the officers of the club and direct its affairs.

Community Meetings "I propose to spend ten or more days in this county in visiting farmers and holding evening meetings in the rural centers of population. I will go into a rural community and spend a day there going from farm to farm and will hold an evening meeting at a central point. I shall depend upon some one in each community to arrange a place for the evening meeting; provide a car and some one who is well acquainted with the farmers of the community to go with me during the day, and to enlist several friends to help invite farmers to the evening meeting and to help at the meeting. These meetings are for the public and everyone interested in the community is invited to attend."

"It is necessary that I designate some local man in Jacksonville who is centrally located, has frequent mail delivery and telephone service to assist me in arranging itinerary and meetings, and in handling subscription cards. The bankers of the county are ready and willing to assist the farmers in any way they can and I shall avail myself of their help in the several communities. I shall draft into my service a man in Jacksonville who for several years has been in close touch with the Department of Agriculture in its extension work, who is a busy man but who recognizes that some one must give time right now to help out and I shall expect Frank J. Heintz to assist me in promoting this movement and to make all local arrangements with him and address all correspondence in this connection to him."

TRANSPORTATION TO VICKSBURG INADEQUATE

A short time since it was announced that all honorably discharged veterans of the civil war on either side, would have free lodging and meals at the coming jubilee at Vicksburg and that the Illinois legislature had appropriated $40,000 to pay the transportation of all Illinois soldiers who participated in the siege. For a while all was well but evidently the lawmakers didn't count noses for it has been demonstrated that the $40,000 will not suffice and now Adjutant General Dickson is asking the ones who have applied if they will let him know if the, or any of them decide not to go; also he has suggested that sleeping cars and subsistence enroute be eliminated and in that way possibly no one will have to be left out. Some are able and willing to pay their way and that will help some while the economies suggested may enable the money to go around.

REVIEW BOARD ACTS ON TAX MATTERS

Reductions Granted on Several Petitions Where Evidence Indicated Errors in Valuations.

The Morgan County board of review has been in session for a number of days recently considering the petitions of property owners who have desired a revision of their tax assessment. In the case of the M. E. Potter estate where a reduction was asked in the valuation fixed on the property in College Hill addition, no action was taken. In the petition asking for a readjustment of property of Wompe Bros. in Waverly an order of postponement until October 15 was entered. The following changes were made:

John Bader, land in 12-13-11, valuation reduced from $7,500 to $6,750.

Anna Walt, tract of 72 and 40 acres in the vicinity of Meredosia, valuation reduced from $4,800 to $1,800. The evidence showed that these lands are subject to overflow.

John Wilker, land in 23-16-13, valuation reduced from $5,300 to $4,000.

A. E. Ritscher, vacant lots in old plat Meredosia, valuation reduced to valuation of surrounding lands.

SOX TAKE FIRST BLOOD FROM GIANTS

EDDIE CICOTTE PITCHES UN-
BEATABLE BALL

Chicago, Pitcher Master of New York Team at Every Stage of the Contest—Felsch and J. Collins Batted Stars — 32,000 People Witness Battle.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Eddie Cicotte of Detroit, pitcher extra-ordinary of the Chicago Americans, piloted his team to victory today over the New York Natticals by a score of 2 to 1 in the first game of the 1917 world series played at Comiskey park. At the wheel of the White Sox machine he was the master of the Giants at every stage of the contest which thrilled 32,000 followers of the local American league champions and sent them away from Comiskey park convinced that after several years of waiting the highest titular honors of the baseball field were to fall to the share of Chicago.

While Cicotte was the master mind of the victory he was ably assisted by the White Sox machine which played almost faultless ball against the determined stand of the National league standard bearers who would not admit defeat until the final catch of Holke's fly by J. Collins ended a contest which equalled in every way the expected battle between the rival clubs of the two major leagues. His teammates played with the confidence of certainty behind Cicotte and the combination proved too much for the vaunted power of the Giants. An even 32,000 spectators paid admission to the field of the local club with a result that $73,152 was divided among the players, clubs and the national commission. Of this amount the players received $39,502.08; each of the clubs $13,167.36 and the national commission $7,315.20.

There was not a vacant seat within the baseball park when the players took the field and hundreds of disappointed fans thronged the adjacent streets, unable to penetrate police lines. Every point of vantage which in any way overlooked the diamond was occupied by men and boys long before the game began and as the struggle progressed the groups grew in number. The sloping roofs and the towers of the Seventh regiment armory were thronged with soldiers and sailors, while the trees and fences of a small park bore human burdens. Inside the park the crowds overflowed both bleachers and pavilions until the fans were rows-deep behind the center field fence. Many of these had stood in line all night. By noon the last of the regular seats and other space were filled and the doors closed. After that hour the only persons to enter the park were the fortunate holders of reserved seat coupons.

The scenes among the fans were much the same as in all recent series. Flags were used for decorative purposes throughout the park and there were the usual bands, singing and photographs and moving camera operators who snapped and cranked their machines before and during the game.

A touch of color foreign to foregoing series was furnished however, by the presence in a body of more than 1,500 members of the officers' reserve training corps from Fort Sheridan. Grouped in a body in the pavilion back of first base their khaki uniforms and sunburned faces supplied a background which contrasted sharply with the remainder of the civilian gathering.

One of the oddities of the scene from the standpoint of spectators was the comparatively few women among all the thousands who witnessed the play. There was also a notable absence of the continuous cheering which the rivalry of the series had led many of the expert forecasters to predict would be a feature of the game.

There were not lacking moments when the spectators rose en masse, however, and hurled their vocal offering across the field, for the game was replete with startling catches, double plays, long hits and the breaks which mark the line dividing victory and defeat. In the enthusiasm of the occasion even the weather man relented and at the last moment furnished a perfect weather setting for the diamond battle.

Under foot the field, altho a trifle soft from the rain of Friday, was true and there was not a miscue which could be attributed to poor field conditions.

While the box score showed little advantage one way or the other between the two teams, the fact remains that the White Sox, for the day at least, showed a faster and better machine than the Giants. Both the infield and the outfield worked with perfect judgment and harmony and the players collectively and individually co-operated to a higher degree than was the case with the National league combination. The men of Rowland with Cicotte on the mound appeared to have a psychological edge on the Giants and even in the most uncertain moments of the contest played with a dash and vim which was an outstanding feature of their work.

They were first to score, gathering in their initial run in the third when, after Schalk had been retired at first by Zimmerman, Cicotte singled thru second. John Collins followed with another to right and Cicotte was thrown out at third by Robertson while Collins took second on the throw across the diamond. From the midway sack he was able to score easily when McMullin doubled over second. The second and deciding run of the contest was a home drive of remarkable power and length by Felsch in the fourth when the Sox centerfielder caught one of Sallee's sweeping curves on the end of his bat and sent the ball soaring more than 400 feet into the left center bleachers. It is doubtful if a lustier home run blow has ever been delivered in modern world's series.

The Giant's lone tally came in the following inning when Catcher McCarty hammered out a three base hit between Felsch and J. Collins.

ACIDS IN STOMACH SOUR THE FOOD AND CAUSE INDIGESTION

"Pape's" Diaparsin" Fixes Sour, Gassy
Upset Stomach in Five Minutes

You don't know what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diaparsin to neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have dyspepsia. A little Diaparsin occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened, and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diaparsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops food souring and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Your stomach will digest your meals if you keep acids neutralized.—Adv.

which might have gone for a home run also had the Giant's backstop been able to run faster. Having recently recovered from a broken leg, however, the best McCarty could do was to reach third from which point he scored easily on Sallee's single. There were several other times when the Giants threatened but in every case sensational plays by the White Sox turned them back.

The outstanding example of these wonderful defensive plays was a shoestring catch by Joe Jackson in the seventh inning when he swept in on the run and caught McCarty's drive just off the grass and finished with a somersault, coming up with the ball in his hands so quickly that Holke was easily held at first; he had reached as the result of a single to right.

Another unusual angle of the play was the fact that Cicotte was forced to work harder as the winning pitcher than Sallee who went down to defeat after hurling a creditable game in every respect.

Analysis of the balls pitched indicate that the Giants kept Cicotte working harder than the latter's teammates did Sallee. The tendency of the White Sox to hit anything that looked good instead of waiting out the opposing pitcher was illustrated by the fact that Sallee threw only eighty-six balls in eight innings. Cicotte's total for nine innings was 191. Each pitcher was a bit off in the third inning. Cicotte threw twenty times in that session nine of his offerings being balls, two clean strikes, three foul strikes, two fouls, one hit safely and three hits to fielders. In the same inning Sallee sent up five balls, five clean strikes, was found for three safe hits and had two pitches hit to fielders.

In the sixth inning neither pitcher had a ball called and Cicotte repeated this feat in the ninth. In the whole game the totals of the various kinds of pitches were as follows: Balls—Sallee, 24; Cicotte, 30. Strikes—Sallee, 19; Cicotte, 22. Foul strikes—Sallee, 12; Cicotte, 15. Fouls—Sallee, 4; Cicotte, 5. Safe hits—Sallee, 7; Cicotte, 7. Hit to fielder—Sallee, 29; Cicotte, 23.

TALK OVER PLANS FOR MONUMENT

Letter from Government Engineer Says Reinforced Concrete is Satisfactory for Part of Foundation—Specifications Completed.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' monument association held their regular meeting at the court house yesterday with a majority present. The question now before the organization is regarding the material to be used in the accepted model. There was such a general approval of the design that there could be no question regarding the choice of a great majority and the matter was regarded as settled.

When the successful bidders and designers submitted their plans and specifications, they provided for a granite monument with concrete foundation and concrete filler. Some objected to the use of concrete and urged especially that the U. S. government always insisted on solid granite in the construction of monuments. Some of the commission were very insistent that the core of the monument should not be of concrete and so the secretary was instructed to ascertain from the bidders the practicability of making a change and he was also asked to ascertain the facts regarding the use of concrete cores in monuments erected by the government. In order to get this information from headquarters the secretary, Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp, addressed a letter to Congressman Henry T. Rainey, asking him to hand the letter of inquiry to the suitable official that the question might be answered.

Commission Report
With usual courtesy and promptness Mr. Rainey attended to the matter and Dr. Rammelkamp received the following reply regarding the use of concrete cores for monuments erected by the government, the letter having been forwarded to the secretary of war.

The Commission of Fine Arts Established by Congress, May 10, '10
Office of the Secretary
Washington, D. C., Sept. 8, 1917.

Dear Sir:
Your letter of Aug. 21st last to Hon. Henry T. Rainey, making inquiry regarding the material used in the construction of monuments for the government has been referred to this office for reply.

We have no information regarding the size of the monument you intend to erect. In the $250,000 Grant memorial now being erected in this city the core is of concrete, water-proofed of course so as not to stain the marble facing; the Columbia memorial erected at a cost of $100,000 has a concrete core, and the walls of the Lincoln memorial now going up have brick cores with marble facings.

It may be that your monument would not be so large that a concrete core would be cheaper than rough granite, but as a construction problem and from the financial side, it will probably be more economical to construct the core of reinforced concrete with granite facing as you propose. The successful execution of any such work of course depends upon the efficiency of the contractor and designer.

I trust the above will cover the situation to your satisfaction.

Very truly yours,
Wm. W. Harts,
Colonel, U. S. Army.

Letter From Architects
Secretary and Executive Officer.

It was the desire, however, to satisfy all, as far as possible and to that end the architects and contractors were asked to submit plans and specifications calling for granite core in the monument and the following letter was received from them:

Crunelle, Morison & Walker,
20 Jackson Boulevard,
Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen:

The detailed drawings and specifications for the monument are now ready for your inspection, all of the essential parts being developed in detail. Further study will develop refinements.

We now respectfully ask that you submit the construction to expert criticism.

The pedestal of the monument is now constructed solely of granite, concrete being used for foundation work and extending no higher than the line at the bottom of the base or pedestal and foundation bowl. The joints are arranged with the idea of making the monument as proof against the weather as it can be made.

The design is now adapted to fit the fifty feet of cement walk which is in place. It also has steps on four sides as we suggested at the time we met with you in the month of August. We shall be glad to answer any questions which may occur to any one.

We intend to send three copies of the plans and specifications and if you desire more we shall be pleased to send them to you.

Respectfully,
Crunelle, Morison & Walker,
By Fred C. Walker.

There was considerable discussion over the matter. The drawings seemed to indicate a hollow of about 14 inches in the center of the granite shaft to which some objected while they also deprecated the use of anything but granite throughout. It was suggested by some that heavy railroad bridges, costly buildings and other structures have concrete foundations and in many cases are built of concrete.

It was suggested also that none of the commission were expert architects and capable of giving an expert opinion and as the successful bidders had asked for the opinion of an expert it was deemed fair to them to get it and the commission finally voted to submit the late plans and specifications to the state architect for his approval and if he would decline or be unable to act, then to select some person similarly qualified and abide by his decision.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

The Conservatory Orchestra began rehearsals on the "Scenes Pittoresques of Massenet" and "Sigurd Jorsalfra" of Grieg, last Wednesday evening.

Some members of the Faculty have been engaged to give a concert in Ipaia early in November.

Miss Rebecca Scheibel was a visitor at the Conservatory early in the week.

Mr. Munger had planned to give his annual piano recital this month but he deferred it on account of the revival meetings being held in the churches.

Mr. Dean Cochran played a violin solo at the devotional meeting last Sunday evening, accompanied by Miss Ruth Duncan.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

President Barker attended the meeting of the Illinois Federation of Colleges held in Decatur last Monday and Tuesday. He is now attending the sessions of the Southern Illinois Conference which is being held at Marion, Illinois. While in southern Illinois he expects to visit DuQuoin where he first began his school work.

Miss Jennie Anderson, head of the department of History, is in Chicago, looking up some new books with reference to further requirements in outside reading in connection with the Modern History courses.

Loan Mothershead returned Thursday from Chicago where she had been attending a special committee meeting, representing the colleges of Illinois with reference to Illinois' share in raising the million dollar fund from the colleges.

The posters made in the Fine Arts department, announcing the second liberty loan, have been placed in the various banks of the city as already announced. The work on these posters shows rare skill on the part of those preparing them and reflects great credit on the instruction that they have received under the direction of Miss Knopf. Special classes in poster work, costume designing and commercial advertising will be offered at popular prices. Further announcement will be made in regular advertisements.

A FORTUNATE RUNAWAY.

It isn't often a person denominates a runaway fortunate but that is what C. W. Phelps and wife of Liberty say of a runaway yesterday morning that demolished a surrey completely. They were driving towards the city with their little boy when Mr. Phelps stopped at a house and left his wife and little boy in the vehicle. The horses were very restless and Mrs. Phelps left the surrey and went to the heads of the animals and tried to quiet them but instead of being subdued they broke loose and dashed down the road at a mad gallop with the little boy in the rig. In agony they started after the team expecting to find their son crushed to death but instead they met him walking toward them. He was too little to tell how it happened but by some means he was thrown out in a way that simply bruised one leg a little and so the parents demonstrated it a fortunate runaway too the rig was utterly smashed up.

RED CROSS GOODS

Great Oven Improvement

Saves Time—Saves Food—Saves Fuel

Note that heat travels completely around our high oven on 4 sides, while with common type ranges heat travels on 3 sides only. Anyone can quickly see that this big improvement in oven construction gives a much quicker and more even baking oven and that it would prove a source of big fuel economy. There is no need to turn baking—biscuits steaming on the table in half the time of the ordinary range—Pastry—Roasts—Baking—all browned perfectly with a big saving in time, food and fuel.

NEW SLOGAN OF RAILWAY SUPPLY CONCERNS

"A Ton of Tobacco a Week for Our Railway Regiments"—Nation-Wide Movement to Assure Smoking Solace to Every American Railway Man in France.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—"A ton of tobacco a week for our railway regiments" is a new slogan of the railway supply concerns of the United States.

A nation-wide movement has just been started among the men who make or sell everything used on railroads, to assure the solace of smoking to every American railway man in France.

Through the co-operation of the railroads with the United States government, and by the voluntary enlistment of railway officials and employees, nine "railway regiments" of about 1,000 men each were recently raised. They were the first contingent to leave this country for war service and the first to be actively engaged in it. They are building, rebuilding and operating the military lines behind the French front, and have been objects of attack by German aviators and artillery. More "railway regiments" will be raised in this country for war service abroad. How many will be necessary cannot be estimated now.

The originators of the movement to supply the "railway regiments" with smoking tobacco took up the matter with Samuel M. Felton, president of the Chicago Great Western railway and director general of United States railways abroad. Mr. Felton endorsed the plan and had a study made which showed that it would take over a ton of smoking tobacco every week, costing over $1,000, to supply the railway regiments.

Now the railway supply men are going to raise over $50,000 for smoking tobacco for those regiments, no matter how long the war lasts. The following committee has just been appointed in charge of the "Railway Regiments' Tobacco Fund":

F. A. Poor, chairman; president P. & M. Co.

Samuel O. Dunn, secretary; editor Railway Age Gazette.

R. P. Lamont, president American Steel Foundries.

George A. Post, president Standard Coupler Co.; president Railway Business Association.

J. M. Hopkins, president Camel Co.

A. C. Moore, vice-president Safety Car Heating and Lighting Co.

John Washburn, vice-president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago, will be treasurer of the fund.

Coal stoves, wood stoves, elbows, stove pipe, coal hods, stove boards; anything and everything you need at Brady Bros.

ILLINOIS FARM LANDS SLUMPING IN VALUE

Is Statement of District Food Administrator in Office of Harry A. Wheeler—Situation due to Shortage of Labor.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Farm land values are slumping as much as $25 an acre in some sections as a direct result of the selection of farm lands, renters and young farm owners for the national army, according to a statement by one of the district food administrators in the office of state food administrator, Harry A. Wheeler, today.

This situation, he said, is resulting because of the shortage of labor to handle the farms and the consequent listing of farms for sale and the unfilled demand for renters to take those farms from the owners for the coming crop. It was explained that this district administrator had just made a personal survey of the situation in Lake, McHenry, DuPage, Will, Kane, Kendall and Cook counties.

"In McHenry county," he said, "the percentage of renters runs as high as 67 to 75 per cent in some sections, and as the one-year lease system still largely prevails, the call for the national army has brought an unsettled condition that has put many farms on the market and caused others to go begging for renters to handle them next year. This comes too at a time when most farm land values are rising because of the high prices for crops. Until the exemption boards decide how to leave at home sufficient man power for these farms, there can hardly be an increased production in this section, though the one-year lease system is an evil that should be stamped out anyway."

—WORTHLESS TITLES—

Owners of real estate have properly been satisfied to have an abstract of title going back to the government. But the day is now at hand when such a title won't be worth shucks. God says He owns all of the land and everything in it. Ps. 24:1. God never gave any one land but Abraham (Gen. 26:3) and Stephen said, Abraham died without ever getting a foot of it. Act 7:5. The best informed of students understand that in 1925, after the trouble is over, Abraham will reappear and get the promised land. Dan. 12:1-2; Luke 13:28; Rev. XI:18.

Government titles have been all right, but when God changes all governments, as He will inside of four years, the present titles will not be good. Our government got her land from the Indians by purchase, conquest or otherwise; but the Indians had no righteous title, as they probably stole it from others who only had a squatters title. God has promised to break in pieces all these kingdoms, Dan. 2:44, and the breaking process began exactly on time, as predicted, for 1914. The breaking process goes on for several years. That will be the end of the age, which the English Bible erroneously calls "end of the world." "Aeon" in the Greek means age, as all scholars know.

This great trouble period will make all people poor. "Woe to the rich man for he has had his consolation." It is about all over with the rich man. Christ will soon (Ps. 2:6-8), take charge of all nations, displacing Satan and—"In His days the righteous shall flourish." He will lift up and help all obedient poor. This is the last chance for a man to sell real estate, but woe to the buyer. After the trouble is over, gold money will be good, but silver doubtful. Paper money, bonds, stocks, etc., and negotiable paper will not be worth shucks.

It is not expected that any bank can endure the reign of anarchy in the autumn of 1920. "A word to the wise is sufficient." Zeph. 3-8. Respectfully, W. W. Crane.

WOMEN'S WAR WORK

Save your vegetables! Don't let the frost get valuable food materials! The conservation committee of the Morgan county unit, of the council of national defense, woman's committee will find a way to gather your surplus vegetables on Monday and Tuesday if you will call Illinois telephone No. 517. Our local hospitals and Open Air school can use whatever you can spare. Don't let it freeze! Even a little from many gardens will help during the coming winter when so many people in the world will be hungry. One garden has already been offered, and is to be harvested by the Boy Scouts of Troop 3, on Monday afternoon. Let others follow! Call No. 517, Illinois and the work will be done for you.

gan county unit of the woman's committee, C. M. D., met with the chairman, Dr. Josephine Milligan on Saturday afternoon to perfect plans for the registration of women on November 7th. Miss Elson Barnes is rapidly securing her captains of registration for each precinct in the county, and is holding classes of instruction at the public library on Monday and Thursday afternoons.

The home charities department of the Illinois women's committee of the council of national defense is organizing isolated groups of women to knit for the soldiers and sailors. Already knitting classes have been started for women prisoners in the penitentiary at Joliet and in the House of Correction at Chicago. The women, when asked if they would like to learn to knit, showed no interest whatever until they were told it was for the soldiers. Immediately their faces brightened and they were all enthusiastic and anxious to do all they could. The home charities committee is planning to start knitting classes in almshouses and similar institutions throughout the state. Yarn for the purpose is furnished by the Red Cross, relief and comforts auxiliaries in connection with the various regiments and by interested persons.

The work of church women in saving numerous barrels of apples the past week has been especially commendable. These apples were in such condition that the food value would have been absolutely lost. By the prompt action of the women large quantities of canned fruit and jellies was saved from wasting. It is not known just yet as to the disposition which will be made of this fruit as the women will await the direction of the state food director, Mr. Wheeler, but the point is that the fruit was saved, and that by the prompt patriotic work of the women.

BILHORN, FAMOUS SINGER, HERE TODAY

Churches Will Unite in Service at Grace Church—Dr. Emmett Will Preach.

Tonight's Services.
6:30 to 7:15. Young people of the churches will meet Miss Mary A. Robertson at the State Street church.

7:30. Opening service of the campaign. Prof. P. P. Bilhorn of Chicago will conduct the great chorus choir. Rev. E. H. Emmett will preach.

Tonight should see every pew seat in the Grace Methodist church filled, and hundreds being turned away. Arrangements have been made to take care of an overflow meeting in the State Street Presbyterian Church if the crowd is too great to be accommodated in the Grace church.

Campaign of Preparation.
Every thing is in readiness for the greatest evangelistic effort that has been attempted in Jacksonville since the time of the Billy Sunday campaign. All of the ministers of the cooperating churches are united in their belief that the greatest spiritual awakening that Jacksonville has experienced will come about as a result of this Campaign. The hundreds of prayer meetings that are to be held and the large number of homes that have already been opened for prayer indicate but a small part of the preparedness that characterizes the preliminary organization.

For more than a month the Rev. E. H. Emmett who established his office in the Chamber of Commerce building has worked unceasingly organizing the Christian forces of the city. He expresses himself as being most hopeful of the outcome of the campaign.

He was able to turn an apparent defeat into a victory by securing Prof. P. P. Bilhorn of Chicago to take the place of Mr. Fisher tonight at Grace church. Dr. Hanley telegraphed Mr. Emmett that it would be impossible to close the meetings in Minnesota until Sunday night, the interest there being of such a character that it would be unfair for him not to yield to the demand of the meeting and remain a few days longer. He, however, agreed to come on Tuesday the ninth and preach his first sermon.

Bilhorn Beloved of Singers.
Immediately on receipt of this telegram Mr. Emmett called the ministers over the phone and arrangements were made over the long distance telephone with Prof. Bilhorn, who very kindly gave up an important meeting in Englewood to help Mr. Emmett and the local committee. No man in the Evangelistic field has had a wider experience or is more universally loved than Mr. Bilhorn. He was the chosen representative of the United States to conduct a chorus of five thousand voices in Crystal Palace, London, England during the World's Christian Endeavor Convention. As the author of "Sweet Peace the Gift of God's Love," which has been translated into every known language he is probably best known. His remarkable tenor voice which he began to use in the closing part of the late D. L. Moody's work has increased in sweetness and volume until today he stands a peer in his profession.

Mr. Bilhorn will conduct the Union Chorus Choir tonight in the Grace church, using his own songs and by special request will sing some of his most famous compositions. He is bringing with him one of his newest Portable Organs which he will use on Sunday night. This is the only service at which Mr. Bilhorn will appear as he returns to Chicago on the night train. The Rev. E. H. Emmett at the special request of Dr. Hanley will also preach. The rest of the evening will be devoted to a song recital and the singing of choruses lead by Mr. Bilhorn.

JACKSONVILLE LOSES TO SPRINGFIELD

Score 14 to 6 in Favor of Capital City—All Scoring Done in First Quarter—Jacksonville's Touchdown Comes on Two Plays After Kickoff—Remainder of Game is Hard Fought.

Jacksonville High lost to Springfield at Springfield Saturday by a score of 14 to 6. All of the scoring was done in the first quarter. After that the ball went up and down the field, changing hands frequently during the remainder of the game. Jacksonville's lone touchdown came in two plays after the kickoff. Fierke received the kickoff and ran in back eighteen yards. On the next play Jacksonville carried the ball over for a touchdown but the goal was missed.

Springfield scored twice in the first quarter and both goals were kicked. Broadwell made the first touchdown and Cosen the second. After that both teams fought hard.
